Dear SHAFR Member:

Enclosed you will find a copy of the Program for this year's Annual Meeting. The main event site is the main campus of Princeton University. The conference is co-sponsored by the Princeton History Department, the Woodrow Wilson School at Princeton, the Center of International Studies at Princeton, and the Yale University Center for International and Area Studies. The Seeley G. Mudd Manuscript Library, home to Princeton University's public policy papers, will host a reception on Friday evening to mark the arrival of the Council of Foreign Relations Archives and the opening of the John Foster Dulles State Department Microfilm. The Program Committee, headed by Steven Schwartzberg at Yale, has put together 52 panels and roundtables, bringing together academics and professionals from diplomatic history, political science, international history, security studies, and cultural history. Two keynote luncheons are scheduled. The first (Thursday @ noon) features Professor Walter LaFeber, of Cornell University, speaking on "Technology and U.S. Foreign Policy." The second (Friday @ noon) features Lane Kirkland, President Emeritus, AFL-CIO speaking about "Poland, the AFL-CIO, and the End of the Soviet Empire." The opening plenary session (Thursday 7—8:30 PM) will take up the topic "Reassessing Nixon's Foreign Policy After Twenty-Five Years." Following the closing (cash bar) reception and banquet, the final plenary session (Saturday 8:30—10 PM) brings together eminent scholars to discuss John Lewis Gaddis's WE NOW KNOW: RETHINKING COLD WAR HISTORY.

In contrast to previous years, and to accommodate the large number of panels, the first session will begin on Thursday morning, at 9:30. Registration will begin Wednesday 23 June 1999 (4-10 PM), and again on Thursday (7:30 AM—6 PM). The back cover of the program provides a registration form for the conference as well as for on-campus housing. The pages preceding contain information about travel to Princeton, local hotels, parking and meals. If you are planning to attend SHAFR 1999, please fill in the forms and mail to the address indicated on the bottom of the form. NOTE: All attendees, including those on the conference Program, must register. Payment must be by check or money order (no credit cards), and should be made out to Princeton University, with "SHAFR'99" written on the lower left-hand corner of the check. Dormitory rooms (air conditioned and commodious) will be reserved on a first-come-first-serve basis, but will not be held without full payment. Confirmations for registration and housing will be emailed, so be sure to include the necessary information.

Please register before the May 19th deadline. This will permit you to pay the reduced registration fees ($50 for faculty and $30 for graduate students).

If you require additional information, please contact the Local Arrangements Committee: ehamblin@princeton.edu; scully@princeton.edu; or (609) 258-3371.

Sincerely yours,

Eileen P. Scully & Eric Hamblin
Co-Chairs, SHAFR 1999

THE NATIONAL HISTORICAL PUBLICATIONS AND RECORDS COMMISSION is a 15-member body, composed of representatives of the three branches of the Federal government and of professional associations of archivists, historians, and records officers. It is authorized by law to undertake a wide range of activities to preserve, to publish, and to make accessible for use documentary sources relating to the history of the United States. The Commission, through its grants program, recommends funds to support these activities. The Chairperson of the NHPRC is the Archivist of the United States.

Two recent NHPRC publications are:

Documents of the Emerging Nation: U.S. Foreign Relations, 1775-1789 (1998), a college-level classroom reader published for the Commission by SR Books, a division of Scholarly Resources, Inc., 104 Greenhill Avenue, Wilmington, DE 19805-1897, telephone 800-772-8937, fax 302-654-3871, e-mail market@scholarly.com. The reader sells for $55 in hard cover (ISBN 0-8420-2663-0) and $19.95 in paperback (ISBN 0-8420-2664-9).

The Emerging Nation: A Documentary History of the Foreign Relations of the United States under the Articles of Confederation, 1780-1789 (1996), a three-volume edition published by the United States Government Printing Office. For orders write to Superintendent of Documents, P.O. Box 37154, Pittsburgh, PA 15250-7954, telephone 202-512-1800, fax 202-512-2250. The three-volume set is priced at $133.00.

These documentary editions contain diplomatic dispatches, private letters, and other documents from archives, libraries, and historical societies—including the National Archives, the Library of Congress, and French and British sources—which reveal actions and events in the formative years of U.S. diplomacy. Foreign-language documents, including those located in the French Foreign Affairs Archives, have been translated—many for the first time.

ALSO AVAILABLE: Annotation, the Commission's quarterly newsletter, provides the latest news about the Commission's work and programs. Each issue explores a different theme—a particular subject area which has received Commission support.

For more information on the Commission or to be added to the Annotation mailing list, write or contact the NHPRC at National Archives and Records Administration, 700 Pennsylvania Avenue, NW, Washington, DC 20408-0001, e-mail nhprc@arch1.nara.gov, fax 202-501-5601.
