The Birth of Development

The Birth of Development:
How the World Bank, Food and Agriculture Organization, and World Health Organization Changed the World, 1945-1965

Amy L. S. Staples

A comprehensive examination of economic globalization

"Although the story here is often a depressing and sobering one, it is also one that deserves to be told, for it depicts an important historical moment, what author Amy Staples calls 'the birth of development.' Given the current role of international peacekeepers and multinational aid agencies around the world, The Birth of Development is also extremely timely and makes clear that the issues that confronted early postwar planners and reformers remain in many ways unsolved."

New Studies in Foreign Relations Series

FORTHCOMING:

Colombia and the United States
The Making of an Inter-American Alliance, 1939-1960

Bradley Lynn Coleman

A tightly focused and interpretative piece of history, this study focuses on Colombian-American security/military relations from World War II through the administration of President Dwight D. Eisenhower. Using significant primary sources from the National Archives and the available archival material from Colombia, author Bradley Coleman sheds light on a subject that has not been well covered in available literature: U.S. foreign relations with less developed countries. Colombia and the United States is a solid piece of historical scholarship that will add considerably to the field.

New Studies in U.S. Foreign Relations Series

Mary Ann Heiss, Series Editor

This series focuses on works that expand the parameters of U.S. foreign relations. Chronologically broad and topically diverse, it is designed to further the internationalization—indeed globalization—of the field by publishing a wide variety of innovative books, including interdisciplinary studies, that place the United States within a larger, transnational context. Possible areas of focus include, but are not limited to, identity formation and projection, borderlands studies, comparative history, and cultural transfer. Currently accepting submissions.

OXFORD
UNIVERSITY PRESS
HIGHER EDUCATION GROUP

CONFERENCE VENUE

All conference events for the 2007 meeting will take place at the Westfields Marriott Conference Center in Chantilly, Virginia. Rates are $139/night per room for single or double occupancy and $149 per room for triple or quad occupancy. Reduced rates are available until May 31, 2007.

You may make your hotel reservation either by phone or on-line. Use the code "SHF5HFE" to receive the group rate. Even if you prefer to make your reservations by phone, you may want to refer to the website in order to get more information about the hotel services and to get driving directions to Westfields. Please see the "Transportation" section of this program for details about parking and arriving at the conference by car, air, and subway/shuttle bus.

If you experience difficulty securing a room at the group rate when reserving on-line or when speaking to reservation staff, please call Patricia Kaylor, our Westfields Event Manager, at 703-818-3514.

Parking

Free parking is available to all conference attendees in the Westfields Marriott parking lot. Valet parking is available for a fee.

Transportation

Arriving by car:
Driving directions and maps can be found at <http://cwp.marriott.com/iadwf/shafr2007annualmeeting/>

Arriving by air at Dulles International Airport:

Free shuttle service from Dulles International Airport is provided by Westfields. Advance reservations are required. Shuttle service is provided between 5:30am and 11:00pm daily on the hour and the half hour only. Based on the flight information you provide, the shuttle will be available on the hour and the half-hour (i.e. 10:30, 11:00) closest to your arrival time. The pickup area is curbside 2H outside of baggage claim. There are multiple Marriott Hotels that utilize 2H so guests should ensure that they wait for the Westfields Marriott shuttle. Please call (800) 635-5666 or (703) 818-0300 to make advance shuttle pick up reservations.

For departures from the hotel, please provide departure details to the Front Desk or Bell Desk at least 8 hours prior to your departure time.

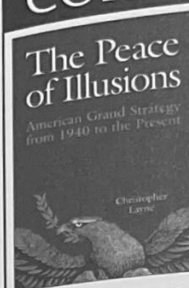

Please note that Westfields normally charges a $15 fee for this service, but it is complimentary for SHAFR Conference registrants.

Arriving by train, bus, or by air at either Reagan National or Baltimore Washington International Airport: Those arriving by commercial transit, but not traveling to Dulles International Airport, may opt to use public transportation to access the SHAFR-sponsored shuttle that will be running from the Vienna Metro Station to the Westfields Marriott (see below). To determine how to reach the Vienna Metro Station from your point of arrival, use the website of the Washington Metropolitan Transit Authority at www.wmata.com

SHAFR Shuttle:

SHAFR will provide a shuttle bus between the Vienna Metro Station and Westfields during the afternoon/evening of Wednesday, June 20; all day on Thursday, June 21-Saturday, June 23; and during the morning of Sunday, June 24. Precise information about the shuttle's schedule and location of pick-up at the Vienna Metro Station can be found at www.shaf.org/meeting07

Patrolling Baghdad
A Military Police Company and the War in Iraq

Mark R. DePue

"This is the best unit memoir to come out of the Iraq War to date and is sure to become a military classic. It deserves the widest possible readership."—Michael D. Doubler, author of Civilian in Peace, Soldier in War: The Army National Guard

Modern War Studies
320 pages, 34 photographs, 6 maps,
Cloth $34.95

The Insular Cases and the Emergence of American Empire

Bartholomew H. Sparrow

"Today, when talk of a new American empire abounds and terrorist threats have created pressures to limit the rights of aliens and suspect citizens, these precedents are more significant than ever. Timely and valuable."—Rogers M. Smith, author of Civic Ideals: Conflicting Visions of Citizenship in U.S. History
